Mount Hermon Sends Out Its Sons With Their Diplomas

Marching solemnly down the center aisle of Memorial chapel Monday morning, the 84 graduating seniors of Mount Hermon school took their seats of honor, listened to the commencement address by Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman of New York city and then filed up to receive their diplomas from Dr. Henry F. Cutler, principal for 42 years who is to retire this month. Among the number was Mr. Wilfred W. Fry, now President of the Northfield Schools.

The exercises opened with an organ prelude by Carlton W. L'Hommiedieu. The choir sang the "Sanctus," by Gounod. Prayer and Bible reading was offered by Rev. Harvey Eastman of Slatersville, R. I., of the class of 1906. The spade oration was made by Arthur Beane of Cambridge.

Dr. Cadman's address was based on the text, "Let Your Light So Shine." He stated that the Northfield Schools are conspicuous today for being lifted out of the ordinary so prevalent in schools, into a lofty discipline. The speaker gave praise to Dwight L. Moody, the founder, and Dr. Cutler and related his own personal contact with Moody as a boy.

"I have every hope in youth," Dr. Cadman said. "We of our generation have little to boast of, but in the youth hope lies. There is great need today for bringing men to God. Blessed are those who have died in battle; they do not see the villainy of the living. Christ trusted in men. He did not ask the angels to help. So must men today trust others and God. By example, by service and by testimony let your light shine before men."

Baccalaureate Sermon
The baccalaureate sermon to the 84 seniors of Mount Hermon was delivered by Dr. Henry F. Cutler, headmaster in Memorial Chapel Sunday morning. The edifice was completely filled and the beautiful service was very impressive. Dr. Cutler took as his text the word "Come" and "Go."

Dr. Cutler said that "go" was not a word of admonition but one of adventure. "It was more of an invitation than a command; it was the start of a new race. It is the word used by Christ after his disciples, his students, had been under his instruction for three years and had finished their course. 'This go' which Christ used was preceded three years before by another word 'come.' He said, 'Come, follow me. I will make you—' Mount Hermon said, 'Come' to you some months or years ago when she learned of your desire for an education. Your experience here has in all likelihood been the dawn of a new day for you. Today you are resting by the highway side; tomorrow you will set your faces again to the front.

"Through these years Mount Hermon has tried to do for you what the great founder, Dwight L. Moody, wished to do for every Hermon man; To bring him into a personal relationship with Christ, the savior of mankind. While here, you have had many hardships and discouragements. Now you have attained the highest official distinction Mount Hermon school can offer you. The thousands who have preceded you have heard the command which I now give you. 'Go.'

"You are the heirs of a great heritage, the record of Mount Hermon, which has stood for 51 years unsullied, untarnished. She passes her record over to you today, placing it in your hands, bidding you to keep the record clean, pure unblemished. She hands you today your equipment for service. It is to be your armor in the strife of life. She had endeavored to teach you the Bible way of living; the way to meet bravely the emergencies of life. She has tried to tell you about heaven, and how we may have the right to enter therein. The 'Go' of earth is the 'Come' of heaven.

"Dwight L. Moody said at the end, 'God is calling me, and I must go.' The same call will come to you. God grant that the final call may come after long years of noble service to mankind."

The President of the 1932 class is John L. Schmitt of Meriden, Ct., Philomathean club president, '30, debater, Hermonite editor, president of the student council, cross country, glee club, Bible prize Colonial Daughters' bronze award, cum laude. He is planning to go to Yale.

The valedictorian or ranking student of the class is Petter Farevaaz of Oslo, Norway, Good Government club, Hermonite business manager, "varsity" man in football and wrestling, glee club, winner of the Henry Huntington prize, '31, cum laude. He is planning to go to Yale.

The Concert

The Commencement Concert took place Saturday in Camp Hall. The Glee Club sang the following numbers: Hermon Song, Swing Along, Bobby Shaftoe, The Scissors Grinders, The Drum, Three Sea Chanters, and Lights on Hermon's Hill. Charles Drury, violinist, played Adoration by Borowski, and Rondino, by Beethoven-Kreisler. The quartet sang Aunt Margery, by Parks, Passing By. There were also piano numbers by Carlton W. L'Hommiedieu.

The Glee Club was made of the following men: Louis May, president; Edward P. Cole, leader; Tenors, Douglas Allison, Egbert Beney, Frederick Bohl, William Cole, Fred Corbett, Joseph DiBlasi, Robert Eastman, Wilder Goodale, Nelson Harris,

DR. HENRY F. CUTLER
Retiring Headmaster of Mount Hermon

Dr. Cutler Ends His Hermon Career; Has Splendid Record

When Dr. Henry F. Cutler, Principal of Mount Hermon School for 42 years, presented the diploma to the last graduate last Monday morning, he had signed and given out 1,788 sheepskins. He himself was not a Hermon graduate, although he has received degrees from Amherst, Syracuse, and Wesleyan. During his principalship almost 15,000 students have attended the school.

"Doc" Cutler, or "Prof" as he is familiarly known to the alumni, has reached the retirement age limit of 70 years. Last June he announced his wishes for retirement to take effect at the close of this present school year. By special request of the school authorities, alumni, and student body, he "stayed on" for two years after becoming eligible under the rules to withdraw from office.

The widely-beloved principal will be succeeded by his own nominee, Rev. Elliott Speer, a graduate of Princeton and for the past six years president of the corporators and trustees of the Northfield Schools, which included the Northfield Seminary for girls. Mr. Speer is now in Edinburgh University, Scotland, studying for his Ph. D., after which he will assume his duties as principal, beginning next September. His father, Dr. Robert E. Speer is the senior secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, and is also a trustee of the Northfield Schools. His mother was for many years President of the National Committee for the Y. W. C. A.

Dr. and Mrs. Cutler will move out of Ford Cottage, the principal's house, which was built by the alumni in 1912. After the assemblage of over 600 of Dr. Cutler's "boys" at a Commencement reunion had adopted the resolution to erect the house, they rushed to the barn, got out some old plows, hauled them up the hill and began breaking ground for the new residence. The Cutlers have already arranged to live in East Northfield, near the golf course of The Northfield Hotel. Golf is Dr. Cutler's chief diversion.

Upon graduation from Amherst in 1896 Dr. Cutler came to Mount Hermon as a teacher for one year. He then left for France, where he taught Latin. In 1890 he came back to the Hill as Principal. At that time there were only five buildings there. Under his leadership the school has grown until today there are 40 buildings and more than 1,000 acres of ground. In scholarship standing the school is listed among the three finest private schools in Massachusetts.

Graduates from Hermon are found in all colleges of the east. The international variety in the number of students has been continued by Dr. Cutler throughout his term of office. Dwight L. Moody, the founder of the schools, had a large number of British students here in the early years. In the present senior class, for example, the valedictorian is a native of Norway (he intends to make his home in the United States from Cuba. If Dr. and Mrs. Cutler decide to travel extensively, they will find Hermonites in every part of the world to greet them.

The most recent improvement on the campus is the renewal of the interior of the Memorial Chapel in mission Gothic at a cost of $80,000 given by Wilfred W. Fry of Philadelphia, president of the N. W. Ayer Advertising Company, an alumnus and trustee. Somewhat earlier Mr. Fry presented the school a new organ.

Dr. Cutler is proud that three of his "boys" are now college executives. They are Paul Moody, the younger son of the evangelist, Dwight L.

Historical Society Has Its Meeting; Exhibits Articles

Were the bones turned up by Edward Cembalisky on his Bennett's Meadow farm a few weeks ago those of an Indian or a white settler? A stone ax or spear head and other evidence also found there point to an Indian.

Mr. Harry Holton exhibited the remains at the quarterly meeting of the Northfield Historical Society last Tuesday evening in Dickinson Hall. Unfortunately the bones are broken up into rather small pieces, but there is enough to make a fairly complete skeleton.

Mrs. Frank Montague exhibited a home-made doll that belonged to one of her ancestors, Lydia Merriman, who was born in 1762, and gave its history. Mr. Leon Alexander brought a ledger used by his ancestor Elisha Alexander, who was a blacksmith. The earliest items are dated 1795. Alexander must also have been a good cider-maker judging by the amount he made for his customers. The various items in the accounts revealed the prevailing prices for horse-shoeing, ploughshares, and other articles.

The transaction of several matters of business, and arrangements for a trip through the Primeval Forest on Saturday June 18, made it an enjoyable session.

The next quarterly meeting falls on Tuesday, September 6.

Plans Pilgrimage To Primeval Forest

The Northfield Historical Society plans a basket picnic on Saturday June 18, 1932 to the Primeval Forest gathering in front of Mr. A. P. Pitt's not later than 9.30 a.m., for the start. The Public are cordially invited to attend.

All those who plan to go please communicate with Miss Daisy Holton or Joseph R. Colton that the necessary permits may be arranged for at an early date, so that none who wish to go will be disappointed. This will provide a real opportunity for the people of Northfield.

Their Annual Picnic

The Sunday School of the Congregational Church will hold a joint picnic with the church and with the Brotherhood on Saturday, June 11th. Announcement is made to meet at the church at 10.30 o'clock a.m. and go to Spofford Lake. Each person is requested to bring a box luncheon. Games and sports will be on the program during the afternoon.

Garden Day Saturday, June 25th

And now the Fortnightly Club through its President announces a Garden Day for Saturday afternoon June 25th. The purpose is to make a visitation to the beautiful gardens about Northfield by the members of the club and their friends and to accomplish a real social call during the inspection. Who is she (or he) who does not love the beautiful in nature and our various gardens about the town should be seen to be appreciated. Those who already have consented to extend the privilege of their gardens on this day are, Mrs. William R. Moody, Mrs. E. M. Morgan, Mrs. Joseph Field, Mrs. W. G. Webster, Mrs. Henry Glutney, Mrs. Allen H. Wright, The Northfield Hotel and Chateau and the Birthplace. A more complete list will be published next week.

Seminary Graduates Large Student Class; Diplomas Presented

One hundred graduates, the largest number in the history of the Northfield schools, received their diplomas last Monday afternoon from Mira B. Wilson, principal of the Northfield Seminary, before the entire student body and their guests which completely filled the large auditorium.

Dr. S. Parkes Cadman of New York was the Commencement speaker, choosing for his subject "Imagination." "Imagination," said Dr. Cadman, "can paint the way to heaven or to hell. It controls the reason. It is the great need of the world today; i.e., the right use of the imagination."

The speaker pointed out the lack of sound dreamers today. An atmosphere that will inspire men and women to see visions for the constructive development of mankind, the world needs now. "I would to God," Dr. Cadman declared, "New York City had some refreshing atmosphere right now."

"I wish that preachers used more imagination based on facts. Jesus used nine-tenths fiction in His sermons and teachings. The way to develop the imagination," the speaker concluded, "is to read the Bible and to avoid what pollutes the imagination."

The Commencement exercises closed with the prayer and Northfield benediction and the class of 1932 with Miss Louise Stanley of East Northfield as its President are now recorded as part of the great Alumnae Organization.

The Sacred Concert

The Sacred Concert of both the Seminary and Mount Hermon on last Sunday afternoon drew an unusually large crowd and automobiles were parked everywhere. It was a concert long to be remembered from the excellence of its character and rendition. It was the first concert to be directed by Mr. Arthur J. Phillips of New York as choral director of the schools and he was extended congratulations by all.

The glee club of Mount Hermon and the Estey chorus of the seminary both took part and were assisted by Miss Marie Lewis soprano; Miss Marian Keller, piano and organ; Carlton W. L'Hommiedieu, organ; and Leonard Ellinwood, piano. The program was:

Organ prelude: A Mighty Fortress, Martin Luther. Wilfred W. Fry Is New President Of Northfield Schools

Mr. Wilfred W. Fry, President of the N. W. Ayer Advertising Co., of Philadelphia was on Saturday last at a meeting of the Trustees of the Northfield Schools held at Kenard Hall, elected as President of The Northfield Schools Inc. succeeding Mr. Elliott Speer who becomes Headmaster of Mount Hermon in September.

Because of the fact that Mr. Fry has been for ten years a trustee of the Northfield Schools, he brings to the office of President, a first-hand knowledge of the needs and workings of the schools. In 1926 he gave a new Estey Organ to Mount Hermon and last year he provided for the rebuilding of the interior of Hermon's Memorial Chapel.

For several years Mr. Fry has been a trustee of Brown University, Colgate University, and Jefferson Medical School of Philadelphia. Mr. Fry was early in life a successful secretary in the work of the Young Men's Christian Association and later became interested in the great effort of national advertising entering connections with the N. W. Ayer Advertising Company of Philadelphia of which concern he has been President and directing head since 1926. With Mrs. Fry he has been interested in educational and charitable work and both give considerable time to the institutions with which they are connected. In behalf of the community of Northfield The Herald extends its greetings to the new President and hopes his administration, so full of promise will be crowned with satisfaction and success.

Credit Measures Considered Locally

A well attended meeting of business men met in the Selectmen's room at Town Hall last Thursday evening to hear Mr. Pillsbury and Mr. Michael of the Greenfield Credit Association of Greenfield explain the "credit situation" of the business interests of the county and the growth of local mercantile business in Greenfield. Rapidly the so-called "trust" account is disappearing and cash payments are being demanded. Persons asking credit are now everywhere proving their ability to pay and losses are being reduced. Northfield business men have in the past sustained losses from people who did not meet their obligations and from whom no satisfaction could be secured. It is now proposed that all persons asking credit be properly rated and bills paid within one to three months as may be agreed. Delinquent accounts may be sold and payment enforced by legal action. Another meeting will be held soon at which time the Northfield Credit Exchange will probably be organized.

Profitable Meeting

Sound doctrine and strawberry shortcake were enjoyed at the Franklin County Convention of the W. C. T. U., held at the Congregational Church in Montague, June 8. A letter was sent to the district delegates to the Republican National Convention affirming the stand of the women on the value of retaining the 18th Amendment until something better could be found. Mrs. Alice H. Lord of Northampton spoke on the work of the organization. Mrs. Harold B. White of Easthampton stressed the fact that it is a poor time to waste money on beer and wine while many people are hungry.

The Benevolent Society of the church served a bountiful lunch which was appreciated. Four cars from Northfield, a bus load from Greenfield, and delegates and visitors from Bernardston and Hampshire County were present. Mrs. Minnie L. Morgan, Franklin County President presided.

More Baseball

The next game of baseball by the town team will be next Wednesday June 15th on the hotel grounds. Keep the date in mind and plan to attend.

New Officers P. T. A. Elects Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association was held in Alexander Hall Monday evening June 6th with Mrs. Dorothy Miller presiding. There were 25 persons present. The new officers for the following year were elected:—President, Mrs. M. D. Birdsall, Vice-President, Miss Gary; Secretary, Mrs. Charles Kehl; Treasurer, Mrs. Henry Johnson.

It was voted to give $5.00 to the 4-H Club Camp in Colrain. The playground committee reported some grading had been done as the grounds back of the Center school-house and there is still more to be done. About $40.00 of the $200.00 has been spent to date.

Henry Johnson reported the sale of 75 bird houses made by the boys of the 4-H Club under his leadership. They realized $37.50 from this sale and the money is to be used to enable the boys of the club to go to the camp on Catamount Hill, Colrain for their vacation.

Mrs. E. R. Fiske of Greenfield gave a talk in Parent and Teachers work and what other associations were doing in different parts of the state offering suggestions as to what our association might do for its betterment. Mrs. Fiske is always very helpful and her talk was much enjoyed by every one.

A musical program which was also thoroughly enjoyed was the piano trios by Misses Julia Alexander, Ethelyn Sheldon, and Mrs. Leon Alexander. Also duets by Julia Alexander and Miss Sheldon. Refreshments of cake and lemonade were served by Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. James and Mrs. Bigelow, acting as hostesses.

W. C. T. U. Convention; Northfield Represented

The Womens' Christian Temperance Union met in Convention at the Congregational Church in Montague on Wednesday June 8th with a large attendance of delegates and Northfield was represented by Mrs. Minnie L. Morgan, County President who presided, Mrs. Clara B. Alexander, who led the song service, Mrs. F. H. Holton who led the devotional service, Rev. Mary Andrews Conner, who responded to the address of welcome. Mrs. M. E. Vorce and Mrs. C. L. Mason led in discussions.

It was an enthusiastic gathering and the women evidenced their determination that the country should continue under strict prohibition measures and that the Eighteenth Amendment should not be repealed.

Hospital Board Annual Meeting

The Board of Organized Work of the Franklin County Hospital held its annual meeting at the Weldon Hotel on Monday, June 6. Following a delicious luncheon at one o'clock the annual reports of the various committees were given, showing the wide diversity of the work and the great efficiency of the organization.

The work of the county towns has increased greatly under the able leadership of Mrs. R. B. Hubbard. She reported more than $300 in money, 275 quarts of canned fruits and vegetables, 14 large glasses of jelly, and 15 bushels of potatoes. Large quantities of fresh vegetables were brought in.

The annual report for Northfield was given by the local chairman, Mrs. Wolfer Webber. During the past year, our town contributed $144 as a result of Hospital Day, last August, when everyone in Northfield contributed so generously, and from the successful bridge party under the management of Mrs. Frank Montague which brought in $17 for the new laundry for the Hospital. There were also canned goods, fresh vegetables and flowers from our town.

The Board of Organized work has paid more than half the cost of installation of the new $5,000 laundry. This new department of the hospital is already proving its worth by a saving of $75 to $90 each week through its operation.

The Chairmen of the county towns were the guests of the Board at the luncheon, and enjoyed greatly their opportunity to meet each other, to hear the various reports of the town work, and to know the extent of the general work carried on by the Board of Organized Work.

It Was Cold

When residents of Northfield woke Wednesday morning they shivered. It seemed as if winter had returned. Reports from various places in the vicinity stated that the thermometer had dropped to the freezing figures. Be that as it may the early risers stated a light frost was evidenced and many sensitive plants suffered. It is stated that to the north a light snow fell on the mountains. It was the coldest night ever remembered at this time of year by our oldest inhabitant.

FINGER MUTILATED

John Zabko of Northfield Farms, while working at machinery on his farm Thursday afternoon had the misfortune to get his first finger caught and cut off. Dr. Wright dressed the injury.

EDITORIAL

My judgment in life has often been wrong,
Especially my judgment of men.
I've made some mistakes in sizing them up,
I'm likely to do it again.
So I think I'll adopt in future a rule
To serve as a foundation and base,
And when I am judging a man or his deeds,
I'll try—to put myself in his place.

A fine declaration is this, worthy of personal ambition:

"The cause of human progress is our cause, enfranchisement of human thought our supreme wish, the freedom of human conscience our mission, and the guarantee of equal rights to all peoples everywhere the end of our contention."

The Minnesota Historical Society has recently paid high tribute to the Grange organization by erecting a beautiful memorial tablet near Elk River in Sherburne county, in honor of Oliver Hudson Kelley, the founder of the Grange sixty-five years ago, whose farm was located at that point.
A movement is also on foot to purchase the old Kelley homestead, where Mr. Kelley thought out his plan of a Grange, and where, as secretary during the early years, he largely conducted its affairs. As a historical shrine thus preserved, it would become the Mecca of Grangers from everywhere. Mr. Kelley built better than he knew for the Grange has been of lasting benefit to all mankind and the Northfield chapter is also appreciative.

The Editor of the Chatham Courier of Chatham, N. Y., waxes warm in an Editorial concerning the despoliation of our highway beauty that we gladly appropriate it here:

"Many who motor and hike into the country in the Spring seem to have but one idea—to pull up the wild flowers by the roots, to tear off the branches of the blossoming trees and to defile with papers and refuse every beauty spot along the streams and the shady roadsides. And when Autumn comes, the red and yellow branches scattered in the Spring—are twisted off, and a certain low breed of hunter makes targets of sound trees.
Then Christmas approaches and a new pack of vandals chops down every available evergreen suitable for a Christmas tree and sacks the woods for laurel and holly.
Apparently, there is no closed season on beauty, not one month out of the twelve when the fields and woods are safe from the spoiler. Year by year the unprotected countryside near the centers of population tends to become a dirty and desolate waste, littered with rubbish and denuded of its foliage.

Where is the highway not yet disfigured by the plague of hotdog stands and advertising signs? They are ubiquitous, finding their way into the mountain fastness and to the most remote roadside. It seems that man, not content with stripping away the natural beauty of the landscape, devised the roadside refreshment lean-to and signboard to complete the process of disfiguration.
If there is anything in this country that cries for repression, it is the ruthlessness of the crowds that infest the great small open spaces; if there is anything that demands ironclad regulations, it is the location of hot-dog stands and advertising sign-boards."

Shall We Increase The Gasoline Tax?

To increase the gasoline tax would make Massachusetts one of the most expensive places in the country for motorists. In 1931 Massachusetts motorists paid a total tax of $31,826,035.
Of this $15,306,376 was in gasoline taxes and the balance in car registration fees, licenses, fines, personal property taxes, etc. During the first four months of 1931, the gasoline tax rate was 2 cents a gallon, it being increased to 3 cents a gallon on May 1, 1931. At the present rate of 3 cents Massachusetts motorists are paying an annual gasoline tax of well over $16, 000,000, bringing their total tax to $32,800,000 annually. A 1 cent gasoline tax increase, as is proposed, would add $5,000,000 to the motorists' annual tax bill, bringing the grand total to $37,800,000 and the average tax per car to $44.99.

Increasing the Massachusetts tax would put this state in the class of those "tax ridden" states where the rate is notoriously excessive and the taxes are being rendered uncollectible.

To Open Office

Dr. R. E. Hubbard will open his office in Northfield adjoining the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Johnson on Thursday evening, June 9th, at which time he invites his friends to call. His regular office hours will be announced next week.

The Poet's Corner

FOR COMMENCEMENT

In a cool and shady forest,
Stood a strong and sturdy oak
With its leafy boughs wide spreading,
Sheltering all the woodland folk.

Every springtime in the forest,
When the sky grew soft and blue,
And the breezes sweet and balmy,
All the world was fresh and new.

Then the old oak tree awakened,
Waked to hear the brooklet sing,
Waked to hear the blue birds calling,
Waked to welcome joyful Spring.

Suddenly on all her branches,
On her boughs so gnarled and bare,
Flashed the tiny buds and leaflets,
Opening to the sweet spring air.

Nourished by the rain and sunshine,
Swelling buds burst into leaves,
And heard of the busy world life
From the ever wandering breeze.

As Spring matured to Summer,
And Summer aged to Fall,
The little acorns sprang to life
At their mother oak tree's call.

Full of joyful life these children,
In their silky coats of brown,
Watched the maples blushing crimson,
Heard the chestnuts falling down.

Beautiful was the witching Autumn,
With her hazy dawns and moons,
With her brightly flaming sunsets,
And her golden harvest moon.

But the forest now was silent,
Only chattering squirrels heard,
For the sunshine of the southland
Had woe away the fickle birds.

Then the winds blew sharp and sting-
ing,
The clouds hung low and gray.
The little acorns wondered,
As they heard the oak tree say—

"Children, whom I love so dearly,
You must from your mother part.
I have nourished you and fed you,
With the life blood of my heart."

"King Winter now approaches,
I feel snow flakes in the air,
His frosty fingers touched the leaves,
And stripped the woodland bare."

"All the summer you were joyful,
Full of fun and always gay,
It was right you should be youthful,
But that careless life has passed away."

"Nature offers many chances
If you only look around,
You may grow into a noble oak,
Or wither in the ground."

Sadly then the mother oak tree
Shook her little acorns down, Down among the moss and dead leaves,
Down upon the cold, hard ground.

Many springtimes kissed the forest,
Made the old oak bud anew.
Many times the skies of Winter
Softened into Summer's blue.

Many young oaks, tall and slender,
Sprouted from the fertile ground,
Making leafy homes for song birds,
Throwing grateful shade around.

But many of the old oaks' children,
Thinking duty did not pay,
Mouldered into earth's corruption,
Slowly mouldered and decayed.

The years that look so long before us,
Quickly pass by, one by one,
They seem to vanish as the dew drops
Melt, beneath the summer sun.

Childhood days slip by unheeded,
Then bright youth has passed away,
And we hear life's duties calling,
Calling, and we must obey.

We are like the careless acorns, Home, the old oak, true to the core,
Protects us from the rough winds' buffets
Calms our fears when we hear it roar.

Teachers guide our groping branches,
Bid us look up toward the sky,
Show us nobler things than earth
worms,
Tell us we must live, not die.

Then like acorns we are scattered Thru the forest wide and vast,
But our hearts are made courageous,
By the memories of the past.

When we leave the sheltering branches,
When the dear tree shakes us down,
Let us grow to hardy oak trees,
Not lie useless in the ground.

Winchester, N. H.

THE HAND OF GOD

Trickling rills 'neath sighing trees,
Sweet perfume on gentle breeze,
The chirping cricket and buzzing bee,
Bespeak the hand of God.

The rolling hills, a purple hue Ever changing to colors new,
The distant lake so calm, serene,
Bespeak the hand of God.

Crashing thunder—flashing of light
That pierces the darkest of night,
The treacherous rock, the turmoilled sea,
Bespeak the hand of God.

Song of the bird when eve has come,
Starlit heaven when day is done,
The silent night—then a glorious dawn,
Bespeak the hand of God.

The American Flag; Facts To Know

June 14, Flag Day, has ever carried the deepest meaning to every true American. This year the day will carry a tenfold significance, as the nation celebrates the Two Hundredth Anniversary of the Birth of George Washington. For to General Washington, tradition credits a leading part in the very designing of the flag, and what he did to give it meaning is and will be known to every American as long as our country lives.

On June 14, 1777, Congress resolved: "That the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white, that the Union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

In these simple words, authority was given to General Washington to design the flag, and on the same day tradition has it that he went to the house of Betsy Ross on that visit which has become one of the finest pages of American folklore. With him, according to the account, went Robert Morris and George Ross, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence and the uncle of Betsy Ross's deceased husband.

On entering her modest house in Arch street, Philadelphia, they are said to have found Mistress Ross busy at her needlework and humming a tune—softly, however, so that she might hear the tinkle of the bell on the door of her shop at the front of the house—and General Washington thus simply stated his errand.

"Mistress Ross, we have come to ask you to help in making a flag for our country. We do not feel pleased with the grand union flag because of the Kings' colors in the canton, so we have planned another."

The "grand union" flag referred to by Washington was the one he himself had designed and first flung to the breeze on January 1, 1776, during his siege of Boston. This was at a time when the Revolutionists still felt they were fighting, not the British king, but his ministers; hence Washington's flag consisted of the thirteen alternate red and white stripes, but bore in its canton the Kings' crosses of St. George and St.
Anthony. By 1777 the Revolutionists were fighting solely for an American nation, and they wanted an American flag.

Mrs. Ross, it is said, undertook the making of the flag eagerly, and with an exalted sense of the unusual honor conferred upon her. Not only that, she even suggested to Washington a slight correction in the design, which bore six-pointed stars instead of the five-pointed type of heraldry. With a snip of her scissors she cut a folded paper and held forth a perfect five-pointed star to show what she meant.

For a few minutes longer the design was discussed, and as quickly as nimble fingers could execute the task, Mrs. Ross had the flag in being.

So, in this homely fashion which so well suits the American spirit, was born the emblem designed by Washington, coming almost like a direct gift from him, to fly ever since over the nation that he also designed. Today, every American is privileged to ponder on the stupendous human events and influences that have flowed from this simple incident at the house of Betsy Ross a century and a half ago.

When that flag was designed and made there was not a true Republic in existence. Since then the principles set in motion by George Washington and his fellow patriots have extended themselves to the uttermost parts of the earth. More than an emblem of sovereignty, the flag that Washington planned has been a symbol of human freedom of equal opportunity, and political liberty where-ever mankind has sought and fought for these things.

Flags have flown for the vanity of kings. Flags have been hated by millions of people, as representing nothing but conquest and oppression.
Many of the cruelties, prejudices, injustices that men have forced on each other have been wrought under the sanction of some similar emblem. The flag that will fly from thousands of masts today is the one given us by George Washington, to float as the first bright banner of unstained honor, over a people for whom he prepared a great destiny.

It drew the early patriots from comfortable homes, from the security of their occupations and from the love of their families, to fight for the larger world which we inherit. What to them was a far ideal is to us the great reality. No good American will neglect to ask himself how well he preserves the courage, the spirit of sacrifice belonging to those men and women who gave us this priceless heritage, on this returning anniversary of the day when their flag was born.

Hardly had the American flag appeared when it began to play an immortal part in our history. It first was flung in the face of the enemy less than two months after its creation at Fort Stanwix, on August 3, 1777. It was first carried into battle by George Washington's troops at the Battle of the Brandywine, September 11, 1777. It was first saluted by the British at the surrender of Burgoyne, October 17, 1777. On February 14, 1778, John Paul Jones took the first salute to the flag as a naval emblem when he sailed the "Ranger" into Quiberon Bay, France. On April 24, the same year he forced the first striking of colors to the American flag by the British ship "Drake," in a British port. In 1787 the flag was first carried around the world by the ship "Columbia," sailing from Boston.

It was first flown in battle in the Pacific by the U. S. Frigate "Essex" in 1813, and in the next year it inspired Francis Scott Key to "The Star Spangled Banner."

Once, in 1794, when Vermont and Kentucky joined the Union, the stars and stripes were increased to 15; but in 1818 Congress fixed the final form of the flag as of thirteen stripes, with a star to represent each State. On April 6, 1909, Admiral Peary planted the first American flag at the North Pole. Since then Admiral Byrd has carried it to both poles. Wherever it has gone it has meant honor and achievement, but this year it floats in honor of the greatest of Americans and the greatest of achievements—George Washington, and his creation of the United States.

Wrestling Match Draws Big Crowd

The open air wrestling match staged in Northfield last Monday night on the Stearns Garage lot was attended by nearly 300 followers of the sport from all parts of Franklin County. Mr. Leroy Dresser was the promoter.

In the main bout, which was between Gorilla Cranston of Northampton and Charles Moquin the Brattleboro strong man, there was action every minute. The bout was a two-in-three affair with a one hour time limit. Cranston after 36 minutes of hard and fast wrestling pinned Moquin's shoulders to the canvas for the first fall with a double arm hold.

The men went at it in real style for the second fall, but Moquin proved to be the best and he downed Cranston for the fall in 14 minutes with a chin lock.

Both men were anxious to annex the third and deciding fall in the 10 minutes that was left of the time limit and had the crowd on its feet several times, but the bout ended with neither wrestler getting a fall.

In the semi-final which was one fall with a half hour time limit, Paul Adams of Easthampton defeated Ed Morton of Whately in 23 minutes with a body slam.

The one-fall match with a 20 minute time limit between Joe Dion of Northampton and Cyclone Smith of Brattleboro resulted in a draw.

In the preliminary Joe Steward of Greenfield was awarded the bout when Ray Kervian of Northfield whom he was matched against was knocked out as his head hit the side of the ring with a terrible force after 12 minutes of wrestling and he could not continue.

Bill Dalton was referee and Lawrence Lazelle was the timekeeper.

High School Notes

Miss Lawley has been notified by Mr. Frank P. Morse, supervisor of secondary education for the state, that Northfield High School has again been approved in Class A for the year 1932. This classification entitles our graduates who have maintained a good standing to enter the state teachers' colleges without examinations.

The following have been the recent speakers in assembly: Helen Szeszowski, Monica Szeszowski, Amelia Urgielewicz and Helen Urgielewicz.

The high school orchestra which was organized in January made its first public appearance on Friday in a school assembly program. Five selections were played and while they did not show the finish to be expected of an experienced orchestra, they were very well done considering the fact that almost none of the members could play at all in January. Much credit is due to Mr. Farrell for his work with the group. It is hoped that the orchestra can continue next year with more members.

Last Friday afternoon, the sub-freshmen paid a visit to their next year's home. They were given a general idea of the various Freshman subjects and then made out their probable course of study for next year. After this a short program was given in their honor:

School song, "Our Old High"; school orchestra, a. March, "Between the Halves;" b. Minuet, "Colonial;" c. Waltz, "On the Spot"; play, "Victoria Matrix;" Latin I and II; violin solo, Richard Farrell; Intermezzo from "Cavalleria Rusticana;" "The Old Refrain"; Kreislir; play, "Cal O' Mel"; school song "In a Massachusetts Valley;" play, "Les Trois Souhaits;" French I; school orchestra, a. "The Captain's March;" b. "America," (with school singing two verses).

There are still several who have not paid for their advertising in the Senior Cook Book. Class Treasurer, Kenneth Leach will be glad to receive these amounts immediately before the class graduates.

selections rendered. The Whittle Orchestra proved that they were capable musicians indeed. Miss Lewis as soprano soloist sang unusually well and her voice had the clear ring of melody and precision. Mrs. Keller, as director and Miss Keller at the piano demonstrated their accepted ability as did the artists who assisted the orchestra. The program was as follows:

In the Luxembourg Garden, Manning; The Sleigh, Kountz, Estey Chorus.

Second Symphony in D Major, Haydn; Menuetto allegro, Allegro spiritoso, Whittle Orchestra. The Night Wind, Farley; The Two Clocks, Rogers, Estey Chorus.

Largo, Handel, solo played by Betty Frances Howe; Dance of the Sylphs, Gluck, Whittle Orchestra.

They Met on a Twig of a Chestnut Tree, Robinson; Wee Fiddle Moon, Hoffmeister, Estey Chorus.

The Lantern Service

The senior step singing and lantern service was held on Chapel Hill in the presence of the entire student body and many guests on Sunday evening after the Sage Chapel service. The ceremony consisted of picturesque formations by the seniors as they marched with lighted lanterns, making a large N and then their names 1932. The junior class joined the procession accepting the lanterns from the Seniors toward the latter half, and with their formations formally accepted the privileges and responsibilities of becoming seniors. The arrangements were made by Miss Elizabeth Homet, senior-class teacher, and Miss Thelma Spence, junior-class teacher.

Baccalaureate Sermon

Sunday morning the baccalaureate service was held in the Auditorium and the edifice was well filled for the morning worship. The sermon was delivered by the Rev. Henry Hallam Tweedy, D. D., of Yale divinity school and was of timely instruction and in deep reverence.

In the evening the Round Top service was led by Mr. William R. Moody and afterward the Rev. Mr. Tweedy again preached the final farewell and religious message in Sage Chapel.

Alumnae Meeting

On Saturday morning the Alumnae Association of the Seminary held its annual meeting with a very large attendance and over 200 were registered. The two officers elected were: Mrs. Sidney Laurison of Brookline, vice-president, and Miss Doris Hopkins of Manchester, N. H., director of alumnae day. Miss Hopkins is field secretary for the Y. W. C. A. for New Hampshire.

The terms of the other officers of the association did not expire this year.

The luncheon at 12.30 p.m., in Marquand Hall was attended by 400 and it proved to be an enthusiastic gathering.

The class of 1932 with an attendance of 100 was largest, and the next in number was 1931 with 33. The class of 1887 with two returning is the oldest class represented. For the first time the class of 1932 was present. Miss Harriet Brock of Brookline, president of the alumnae association, extended a welcome. The reply was made by Louise Stanley, President of the class in well chosen words.

Two life-membership awards were made, each with a value of $25. The Bemis Award was given to Isabel Alden of Hampton, N. H., and the "14-92" life membership was given to Mary Burrill, Dennis, Mass. Short talks were made by Dr. Henry F. Cutler, Miss Mira B. Wilson, Albert E. Roberts and Mr. Wilfred W. Fry. Miss Theodora Skidmore a member of the faculty in 1894-1903, who just returned from a world tour, spoke on that trip, especially regarding the Northfield Seminary alumnae she met. Mrs. Louis Stoddard '07, principal of the Hillside School, Marlboro, and Miss Fanny Hatch, secretary of the alumnae association also spoke.

The directors of Alumnae Day were Harriet G. Yates '27, Malden, Mass., and Mrs. Harvey Wheaton, '23, Cambridge, Mass. The class of 1907 was back with 14 out of a class of 25, and their class teacher, Frances L. Knapp, Dean of Admissions at Wellesly. The alumnae prayer meeting was conducted by Matilda P. Goulding, a member of the faculty, with Alice Jack '25, at the organ.

The Sunday morning chimes were rung in honor of Mr. Fleming Revell, donor of the chimes, and three members of the faculty, Mary L. Throop, Eleanor Pepper Sands, and Mary A. Hechtel all of whom have died within the year.

A picture of Mr. Frank L. Duley, who was principal of the school for several years, will be hung in the Alumnae Office by the class of 1929.

The non-graduate reunion and supper for the class of "1492" was held Friday evening at The Homestead, the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moody. It was a real social good time and afforded many the opportunity to greet each other and refresh by-gone memories.

During the address of Dr. Cadman at the Commencement exercises he paid a splendid tribute to the work of Dwight L. Moody and gave an appreciation of the effort of his son Mr. William R. Moody who as head of the schools for thirty years had kept intact the purpose of the school and in harmony with the spirit of its founder.

"Hey," cried Satan to the new arrival, "You act as if you owned the place." "I do," said the newcomer, "My wife just gave it to me."

Advertise Modern War!

"In this article," writes Bruce Barton in the May American Magazine, "I wish to talk seriously about a human affliction a million times more serious than rain, colds or pneumonia. I wish to talk about war and how advertising might be employed against it."

"As an advertising man, I hold that the facts presented call for a tremendous, continuous, world-wide advertising campaign. Specifically, I make the following proposal:

"That the next national administration reduce the total cost of the United States army and navy five per cent (exclusive of non-military activities of the War Department). This would make available an annual fund which would finance the following advertising campaign:

"One full page each month in the leading weekly and monthly magazines, women's magazines, farm papers, and the religious fraternal magazines, $2,500,000.

"Four full pages each month in 1926 daily newspapers, $14,560,000.

"Four full pages each month in 12,212 country weeklies, $30,000,000.

"Four monthly half-hour radio programs, $875,000.

"Four full pages a month in leading daily papers of London, Manchester, Liverpool, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Berlin, Vienna, Paris, Rome, Moscow and Leningrad, $690,000.

"In other words, a continuous, dominant, all-the-year-round campaign on War and Peace, prepared by Americans for the American people, but reprinted in the newspapers of the principal European capitals as evidence of America's earnestness and willingness to back up her peace ambitions with self-education, and hard cash.

"The campaign would attack the subject from every angle. It would for example, deal with the cost of war in money and in human suffering.

"This part of the campaign lends itself to endless variations. With it would go advertisements presenting the devastating character of the next war, to which reference has already been made, and showing from recent experience how silly is the notion that in this close-knit world, any nation can 'win'....

"Summing it all up from an advertising point of view, the present effort of the world for peace is ridiculous beyond description. Motoring is a widespread and measurable activity, yet the automobile companies of the United States felt it necessary to spend in the bad year of 1931, many millions of dollars in advertising to maintain and stimulate the passion for motor cars. The idea of permanent peace runs counter to all the primitive passions of humanity, yet we propose to establish the triumph of that idea with a few kindly old gentlemen, a piece of paper, a blotter, and a fountain pen.

"We weep. We utter pious speeches. We pray at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. But when it comes to money we Americans spend one billion dollars as interest and principal on our debt (chiefly the cost of the last war), nearly one billion dollars in pensions and service to the veterans of former wars, and more than seven hundred millions to the army and navy. But only a fountain pen for peace!

"Meanwhile, time passes; a new generation of boys grows up, filled with outworn ideas of glory. A new generation of girls grows up, with admiring eyes for uniforms. And the bands play on.

"War is not glorious. War is silly. Nobody can win a modern war. War, said General Sherman (and he hadn't seen anything yet), War is Hell.

"Let us advertise this Hell."

thermometer stood at 35 degrees above zero. This cold weather feels rather wintry.

E. W. Dunklee, Victor Vaughan and Mrs. R. E. Bruce attended the session of the 4-H Leaders Club meeting held in Brattleboro last Saturday.

Next Sunday the South Vernon Church, the Sunday School will be omitted and a Children's Song Concert will be given commencing at 10-30 a.m. In the evening at 7 o'clock special services will be held appropriate to Children's Day.

No choir rehearsal will be held this week on account of the Vernon Town Schools graduating exercises held at the Union Church, Vernon on Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock. There are 18 members in the graduating class this year.

Last Sunday, Rev. Frank H. Leavitt took a number of the South Vernon church people to call on Mrs.
Cotes, who is ill in the Memorial hospital in Brattleboro. They were:
Mrs. Carrie Dittman, Mrs. Esther Dockham and Rev. and Mrs. George A. Gray. Rev. and Mrs. Gray sang beautiful duets for Mrs. Cotes and she enjoyed their call very much.

At last Sunday morning's South gave a fine sermon on the subject "In

Miss Katherine Gerrish, Altos. In the evening the pastor spoke on the subject, "The unrecognized Lord." We are having fine and interesting services every Sunday both mornings and evenings.

A fine entertainment was held at Buffum's Hall last Saturday evening by the boys 4-H State Line Club attended by a large audience. Mr.
Bruce Buchanan, County Club agent of Brattleboro gave stereopticon pictures of the boys 4-H Club work and of "The Long Trail," reaching from State Line on the South clear across the state of Vermont to Canada.

The 4-H boys State Line Club gave a fine play "The Mock Trial of County Agent E. M. Root Against Scrub Bull." The members were composed of the Club Leaders: The Judge, E.
W. Dunklee; Court Clerk, Harold
Randall; Attorneys At Law, Victor Vaughan and Robert Bruce; Witnesses, Andre Zaluzny and Donald Strange for "Pure Bred Bull." Robert Strange for "Scrub Bull." The court was called to order by the Sheriff, Gaylord Gray.

When recess came candy and popcorn were sold by the girls 4-H Humming Bird Club. After recess Gaylord Gray was sent to catch the bull and lead him out before the crowd.
After some time this was accomplished and he came leading the bull out by a staff hitched to a ring in his nose. The bull seemed to be excited by the crowd for he shook and lowered his head and roared a number of times and seemed very uneasy. Finally the keeper turned him around and led him back to his barn. This "bull" was composed by two of the 4-H boys, Andre Zaluzny and Robert Strange to represent a long animal and they did their parts well.

Irving Pichel, former Broadway stage star and director, and prominent screen actor, plays a pivotal role in Paramount's startling drama of modern life, "Forgotten Commandments."

Unquestionably this is Pichel's most important characterization since coming to Hollywood. In "Forgotten Commandments," he plays the character role of a brilliant scientist whose personal dreams are thwarted by his new-fangled doctrines. His advocacy of new ideals ultimately leads to murder; but in the end it becomes evident that he realizes his error.

"Forgotten Commandments," based on an original story by James B. Fagan and Agnes Brand Leahy, includes an interlude of spectacular episodes from Cecil B. DeMille's epic, "The Ten Commandments."

"STREET OF WOMEN"
"THE ARM OF THE LAW"

The old French proverb, "cherchez la femme"—"look for the woman," has been powerfully translated into terms of twentieth century American life in "Street of Women," which Warner Bros. have produced as Kay Francis' second starring vehicle, based on the successful novel of modern New York by Polan Banks.

Kay Francis, as Natalie Upton the woman who has been Larry Baldwin's inspiration and counsellor, adds another brilliant portrayal of the modern young woman to the gallery of parts she has already created. Miss Francis has emotional opportunities in "Street of Women" that no other role has yet afforded her.

While Lois Baldwin, Larry's wife, pursues her social career, Larry and Natalie have been blissfully happy in their love for each other and their work together for three years. Natalie's brother Clarke is the apple of her eye. Larry has a daughter Doris to whom he is devoted.

The crisis in their lives comes when Doris and Clarke, in love themselves and engaged to be married, discover the relations between Natalie and Larry Baldwin. Doris pelats with her father to give Natalie up, and both agree it is the only thing to do, Clarke, however, misunderstanding his sisters' love for Baldwin, takes his angry departure for South America, leaving both Natalie and Doris broken-hearted at his action.

From this point, the drama sweeps through a series of unusual situations to an equally surprising conclusion.

Readers of that thrilling murder story "The Butterfly Mystery" will have an opportunity to see the picture adaptation of the famous novel in "The ARM OF THE LAW."

Arthur Hoerls brilliant novel has been brought to the screen in one of the fast-moving, most scintillating murder stories of present-day motion pictures. Playing the leading role as the wise-cracking young reporter whose ingenuity solves the baffling murder of a pampered Broadway butterfly, is Rex Bell, the handsome husband of Clara Bow, who appears for the first time under the Monogram banner in a stellar role.

Kay Francis as she appears in her latest picture for Warner Bros. "Street of Women." Supporting Miss Francis are Roland Young and Allan Dinehart. Archie Mayo directed.

Another Candidate For State Senator In Our District

Atty. Homer Sherman, Charlemont, who is widely known throughout Franklin county, announced he would be a candidate for the Republican nomination for state senator from the Franklin - Hampshire district, comprising all Franklin county towns and 18 in Hampshire county. This announcement assures a contest for the office as Sen. Albert C. Bray, Buckland, present incumbent, announced Wednesday he would seek re-election.

Atty. Sherman was born at Charlemont, Nov. 15, 1878, the son of Charles H. and Adell Albee Sherman. He obtained his education in the schools of that town and Powers Institute and when 18 years of age commenced teaching school at Florida, and continued teaching in a number of towns of the county.

In 1897 he commenced the study of law in the office of Henry C. Atwell of Boston now chairman of the state public utilities board, and later continued his studies in the office of Winn and Griswold at Greenfield. During 1905 he was admitted to the bar and began practice in Charlemont where he has since maintained an office.

For many years, he has been influential in affairs of Charlemont, having served on the school committee for three years; town clerk and treasurer for 10 years; moderator for many years and as a member of the Republican town committee for five years. He has also served as delegate to the Republican state convention on a number of occasions. During 1920 he served as clerk of courts for a period of six months.

Y. W. C. A. District Gathering Held

Mrs. R. B. Marean of Dalton presided at the meeting of the Board of Directors of the District Y. W. C. A. of Western Massachusetts held at the Amber Lantern, Northampton, Mass., on Tuesday. A delicious luncheon was served and the meeting was most interesting. In spite of the fact that the Association is having its financial difficulties as are most of the social agencies at the present time, there was a hopeful spirit. The reports of the General Secretary Miss Winnifred C. Parkhurst and the committee members showed much work being accomplished by the Association which warrants every effort being made to carry it on without needless curtailment. It does mean that every member of the Association must work hard to promote work in many places and help back the movement which is the only rural communities work being carried on by the Y. W. C. A. in the state.

The Springfield Board of Directors have extended an invitation to the Western Massachusetts District Board to meet at "Brookside," Chester, on June 21 to hear the National Convention reports and take luncheon with them. Several hope to go.

Mrs. Marean was asked to represent the District Y. W. C. A. on a committee to help plan a Volunteer Training Institute to be held in Hartford, Conn., next October when it is hoped many of the Board, committee members and club advisers will plan to attend a 2 day session.

Hermion Student Receives Diploma In Honorary Graduation

For the first time in the history of Mount Hermon School, a diploma was awarded at Commencement last Monday to a former student who had not graduated.

Wilfred W. Fry, President of the N. W. Ayer Company, Advertisers of Philadelphia received his diploma from Dr. Henry F. Cutler, principal. Mr. Fry came to Mount Hermon School in 1892 from Livingston, N. Y. He wanted an education. His father was a preacher in Livingston.

The young man became a real student and studied hard to fit himself for his place in the world but only a few weeks previous to the time of his graduation in 1896 his father died and the student soon returned home to care for his mother. Later Mr. Fry entered the work of the Young Men's Christian Association and began his work at Trenton, N. J., later at Pittsburgh and then finally at Camden, N. J. He became an active member of the First Baptist Church at Camden, where he still holds his membership.

When he left Y. M. C. A. work, he entered into the advertising firm of N. W. Ayer and in 1924 became president of this organization.

Mr. Fry and his wife have been and still are benefactors to worthy institutions. For many years he has been a trustee of Brown University, Colgate University, and Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia.

His son, Wayland W. Fry received his diploma on Monday at the same time with his father.

A. F. E. PROFITS GO BACK TO FARMERS IN LOWERED PRICES

Co-operative Buying Brings Down Cost of Feeds, Fertilizers and Other Farm Supplies

The farmer who isn't out to reduce his operating costs in these times is harder to find than a Scotchman on Tag Day, and the Associated Farmers' Exchanges are doing a good job in bringing prices down to rockbottom.

Nowadays it takes more than smooth-tongued salesmanship to convince the farmer that he should make money for the grain dealer, when he can just as well turn every penny of profit back to his own pocket by dealing with the co-operative A. F. E.

The A. F. E., handles only highest grade feeds. Repeated tests by the State officials have proven these feeds even better than guaranteed. No adulteration ever gets into them. Oat hulls, screening, cereal bran, ground oat feed and the like are strangers to the Associated. They are never used in their More Value and Profit Maker Feeds.

The Associated is proud of its list of price cattle raised on these feeds. This list and the record of these cows, also the reports made by State officials on Profit Maker and More Value Feeds may be seen by anyone interested at the A. F. E. Headquarters at 278 Main Street, Greenfield.

The A. F. E., is run on a no-profit basis, that is to say, all profits are returned to the members in lowered prices. Its operating costs are away below those of the grain dealer—this means rent, taxes, insurance, wagon deliveries—in fact every item that enters into the cost of carrying on the work of the A. F. E. Further, there are no high salaried officials to skim off the cream.

So it doesn't take much effort to see that with this very low operating cost and all profit returned to its members, the A. F. E. is doing a real job for its farmers.

After all the farmer is buying just one thing—results. A. F. E. supplies get results—in flesh and milk. The records on file at headquarters prove this beyond possibility of dispute.

This matter of where you will buy your supplies come down to just this: are you in business to make money for yourself, or for the grain dealer? If you want to pay for that gentleman's big house in town, if you want to put up for his Pierce Arrow car, then you won't be interested in the Associated Farmers' Exchanges.

If, on the other hand, you want to put more money into your own bank account and to give your family the luxuries they'd like, then you'd best get into touch with the manager of the nearest A. F. E. store.

You'll find him a mighty good fellow to know and too, the acquaintance will soon prove highly profitable in dollars and cents. You'll find this man at the Associated Farmers' Exchange store in any one of the following:

Barnardston — Shelburne Falls
South Deerfield — Montague
Northampton — Orange
Athol — Fitchburg
Pittsfield — Williamstown
Northfield — foot of Parker Street

County Council At Deerfield

A large enthusiastic meeting of the Republicans of Franklin County was held at Deerfield Academy on Wednesday, June 8 to honor Mrs. Arthur D. Potter and the Reverend Margaret Barnard, delegates to the National Convention in Chicago, next week; and to organize a Franklin County Republican Council.

After a delightful social hour a buffet supper was served at tables on the spacious lawn. The Deerfield Academy band supplied the music. Then the reception to Mrs. Potter and Miss Barnard preceded the meeting held in the "Barn."

Several selections were given by the Deerfield Academy Glee Club, in a most enjoyable manner.

The Honorable John W. Haigis of Greenfield presided at the meeting and introduced Mrs. E. B. Smith of Greenfield and Albert M. Darling of Sunderland who in turn presented the honor guests, Mrs. Arthur D. Potter and the Reverend Margaret Barnard. These two ladies made brief, charming speeches, which were warmly received.

switch-board between state and town

Mr. Haigis gave the keynote to the meeting when he explained the purpose of Franklin County. He said the recovery of the United States depends upon the sum total of individual responsibility in citizenship.

It was an honor to have Amos L. Taylor, chairman of the Republican State Committee, address the meeting. After a brief survey of the great changes that have taken place in our civilization which have scattered the energy and attention of all, and so weakened the interest in democratic government, Mr. Taylor showed how the newly formed county council will give opportunity to local workers to accomplish through co-operation, and act as a bond between the State Committee and the Town Committee. He likened the County Council to a Streeter of Greenfield; Members of Board of Directors to be elected at large: Anthony Wisniewski of Deerfield, Charles Noga of Montague, Arthur F. Martineau of Montague, Emil J. Slowinski of Greenfield, Stephen Maniatis of Greenfield, George St. Cyr of Greenfield.

There were representative Republicans from almost all the towns of Franklin County as well as Republican leaders from nearby counties. Our town was represented by Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Darby, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moody, Mrs. M. P. Wood, Mrs. Neva Barber, Mrs. Leonard Smith, Mrs. Wolfert Webber, Mr. A. G. Moody, Mr. M. D. Birdall, and Dr. and Mrs. Henry F. Cutler of Mount Hermon.
